This document contains solely that information that the Manager is required to make available to investors pursuant to the AIFMD and should not be relied upon as the basis for any investment decision.

DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENT	LOCATION OR DISCLOSURE OF REQUIREMENT
a) a description of the investment strategy and objectives of the Company;	Following shareholder approval at the May 2024 AGM, the Company's objective is to undertake a managed wind-down of the Company and realise all existing assets in the Company's portfolio in an orderly manner.
(b) if the Company is a feeder fund, information on where the master fund is established;	N/A
(c) if the Company is a fund of funds, information on where the underlying funds are established;	N/A
(d) a description of the types of assets in which the Company may invest;	The Company's portfolio comprises a diversified portfolio of predominantly UK based asset backed loans which are secured against contracted predictable medium to long term cash flows and/or physical assets.
(e) the investment techniques that the Company, or the Manager on behalf of the Company, may employ and all associated risks;	The Company is currently pursuing an orderly realisation plan.

(f) any applicable investment restrictions;
(g) the circumstances in which the Company may use leverage;	The Company may, from time to time, use borrowings for investment purposes, to manage its working capital requirements or in order to fund the market purchase of its own Shares.
(h) the types and sources of leverage permitted and the associated risks;	The Group may use borrowings for investment purposes, to facilitate share buy-backs and to manage working capital requirements. While the use of borrowings should enhance the total return on the shares where the return on the Company's investment portfolio exceeds the cost of borrowing, it will have the opposite effect where the return on the investment portfolio is lower than the cost of borrowing. The use of borrowings may increase the volatility of the Net Asset Value per ordinary share and/or the Net Asset Value per C Share (as applicable) together, the Net Asset Value per Share. To the extent that a fall in the value of the Company's investments causes gearing to rise to a level that is not consistent with its gearing policy, borrowing limits or loan covenants, the Company may have to sell investments in order to reduce borrowings. Such investments may be difficult to realise and therefore the market price which is achievable may give rise to a significant loss of value compared to the book value of the investments, as well as a reduction in income from investments. Any amounts that are secured by the Company under a bank facility will rank ahead of Shareholders' entitlements and accordingly, should the Group's investments not grow at a rate sufficient to cover the costs of establishing and operating the Group, on a liquidation of the Company, Shareholders may not recover all or any of their initial investment. The Company pays interest on its borrowings. As such, the Group is exposed to interest rate risk due to fluctuations in the prevailing market rates to the extent that it has borrowed funds outstanding. Changes in interest rates may adversely affect the value or profitability of the assets of the Group by affecting the spread between the income on its investments and the expense of any interest-bearing liabilities. Moreover, changes in interest rates may affect the valuation of the Company's investments and the market value of the Shares. Interest rates are sensitive to many factors including governmental, monetary, regulatory and tax policies, as well as domestic and international economic and political considerations which are all beyond the control of the Company. Interest rate hedging may be carried out by the Group to seek to provide protection against increasing interest rates as and when any floating rate liabilities are entered into by the Group or against falling interest rates in relation to assets that do not have a minimum fixed rate of return acceptable to the Company in line with its dividend policy. There can be no assurance that any hedging can be performed effectively; hedging may also be costly and may reduce the Company's earnings and returns to Shareholders. Furthermore, hedging arrangements may result in counterparty risk and losses in the event of the default or bankruptcy of a counterparty.
(i) any restrictions on the use of leverage and any collateral and asset reuse arrangements; and	The Company may, from time to time, use borrowings for investments purposes, to manage its working capital requirements or in order to fund the market purchase of its own Shares. Gearing, represented by borrowings will not exceed 25 per cent. of Net Asset Value, calculated at the time of borrowing.

(j) the maximum level of leverage which the Manager is entitled to employ on behalf of the Company;	Gearing, represented by borrowings, will not exceed 25 per cent of NAV calculated at the time of borrowing. The AIFMD prescribes two methods of measuring and expressing leverage (as opposed to gearing) and requires disclosure of the maximum amount of 'leverage' the Company might be subject to. The definition of leverage is wider than that of gearing as measured in accordance with AIC guidelines and includes exposures that are not considered to be gearing. For the purposes of this disclosure leverage is any method by which a fund's exposure is increased. A fund's exposure may be increased by using derivatives, by reinvesting cash borrowings, through positions within repurchase or reverse repurchase agreements, through securities lending or securities borrowing arrangements, or by any other means (such increase referred to herein as the "Incremental Exposure"). The AIFMD prescribes two methodologies for calculating overall exposure of a fund: the "commitment methodology" and the "gross methodology". These methodologies are briefly summarised below: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the commitment methodology takes account of the hedging and netting arrangements employed by a fund at any given time (purchased and sold derivative positions will be netted where both relate to the same underlying asset). This calculation of exposure includes all Incremental Exposure as well as a fund's own physical holdings; and cash; the gross methodology does not take account of the netting or hedging arrangements employed by a company. This calculation of exposure includes all Incremental Exposure as well as the Company's own physical holdings. Cash is excluded. The AIFMD requires that each leverage ratio be expressed as the ratio between a fund's total exposure (including any Incremental Exposure) and its net asset value. Using the methodologies prescribed under the AIFMD and implementing legislation, the Company has set a maximum level of leverage, taking into account atypical and volatile market conditions. Leverage will not exceed the ratio of 1.25 using the commitment methodology and 1.25 using the gross methodology.
(2) a description of the procedures by which the Company may change its investment strategy or investment policy, or both;	No material change will be made to the investment policy without the approval of Shareholders by ordinary resolution. Any change to the investment policy which does not amount to a material change to the investment policy may be made by the Company without the approval of Shareholders.
(3) a description of the main legal implications of the contractual relationship entered into for the purpose of investment, including information on jurisdiction, the applicable law and the existence or absence of any legal instruments providing for the recognition and enforcement of judgments in the	The Company is a company limited by shares, incorporated in Jersey. While investors acquire an interest in the Company on subscribing for or purchasing shares, the Company is the sole legal and/or beneficial owner of its investments. Consequently, shareholders have no direct legal or beneficial interest in those investments. The liability of shareholders for the debts and other obligations of the Company is limited to the amount unpaid, if any, on the Shares held by them. Shareholders' rights in respect of their investment in the Company are governed by the Company's Articles of Association and the Companies (Jersey) Law, 1991 (as amended) (the "Companies Law"). Under Jersey law, the following types of claim may in certain circumstances be brought against a company by its shareholders: contractual claims under its articles of association; claims in misrepresentation in respect of statements made in its prospectus and other marketing documents; unfair prejudice claims; and derivative actions. In the event that a shareholder considers that

territory where the Company is established;	it may have a claim against the Company in connection with such investment in the Company, such shareholder should consult its own legal advisers. As noted above, shareholders' rights are governed principally by the articles of association of the Company and the Companies Law. By subscribing for shares, investors agree to be bound by the Company's articles of association which are governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of Jersey. The Company holds a certificate granted under the Collective Investment Funds (Jersey) Law 1988. Pursuant to the Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) (Jersey) Law 1960 and the rules under that law, if a final and conclusive judgment under which a sum of money is payable (not being a sum payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty) were obtained in certain courts in England and Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland, the Isle of Man or Guernsey in respect of the Company (where the Company had submitted to such jurisdiction), such judgment would, on application to the Royal Court in Jersey, be registered and would thereafter be enforceable. Although there is no similar enactment relating to judgments obtained in other countries, the practice of the Royal Court is such that where a final and conclusive judgment under which a debt or definite sum of money is payable (not being a sum payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty or multiple damages) were obtained in the courts of any territory having jurisdiction against the Company, (a) the Royal Court would typically, on application properly made to it, recognise such judgment and give a judgment for liquidated damages in the amount of that judgment without reconsidering its merits; and (b) such judgment of the Royal Court would thereafter be enforceable. This practice would, however, not apply where the foreign country did not have jurisdiction to give that judgment, where it was obtained by fraud, where its enforcement or recognition would be contrary to public policy or where the proceedings in which the judgment was obtained were opposed to natural justice. Where a matter comes before the courts of an EU member state (other than Denmark), the parties' choice of law to govern their contractual obligations is generally subject to the provisions of Regulation (EC) 593/2008 ("Rome I"). Under Rome I, the court may not give effect to a choice of law applicable to a contract in certain circumstances, including: where there are mandatory rules of the member state's own law which are applicable regardless of the law chosen by the parties, where the application of the parties' choice of law is incompatible with the public policy of the member state and where it is bound in relation to particular proceedings, types of contract or issues to apply the law of a different jurisdiction. Further, where all elements relevant to the situation at the time of choice are connected with or located in a country other than the country whose law has been chosen, the choice of the parties shall not prejudice the application of provisions of the law of that other country which cannot be derogated from by agreement. Rome I does not apply to certain matters, including questions governed by the law of companies (such as creation, legal capacity, internal organisation, insolvency and personal liability of officers and members for the obligations of the company) and the power of an agent to bind a principal or of an organ of a company to bind the company to a third party. With regard to any non-contractual obligations, EU member state courts (other than Denmark) will generally apply the provisions of Regulation 2007/864 ("Rome II") to determine the applicable law. The parties are able to choose the law applicable to non-contractual obligations subject to certain restrictions. Absent a choice, the general rule under Rome II is that the law applicable to non-contractual obligations is the law of the country in which the damage occurs or is likely to occur. Rome II does not apply to certain matters, including questions arising out of the law of companies (such as creation, legal capacity, internal organisation, insolvency, personal liability of officers and members for the obligations of the company and personal liability of auditors to a company or to its members in the statutory audits of accounting documents).

	Where a matter comes before a non EU court, it will apply its own conflict of laws rules to determine the law applicable to contractual or non-contractual obligations.

(7) a description of the Company's valuation procedure and of the pricing methodology for valuing assets, including the methods used in valuing any hard-to-value assets, in line with FUND 3.9 (Valuation);	Asset Valuation: The Valuation Agent is responsible for carrying out the fair market valuation of the Company's investments on a quarterly basis in accordance with IFRS. The valuation principles used by the Valuation Agent are based on a discounted cash flow methodology. A fair value for each asset acquired by the Group is calculated by applying an asset-and-date-specific discount rate (determined by the Valuation Agent) to the individual cash flows expected to arise from each such asset.

	Where investments of the Company are inflation-linked or LIBOR-based, the individual cash flows expected to arise will be based on forecast inflation or LIBOR rates as at the date of valuation as indicated on Bloomberg or an alternative source as agreed at the time. The asset-and-date-specific discount rate used for valuing each investment is based on appropriate long term quoted Sterling interest rate swap rates and a risk premium. The Valuation Agent determines the asset specific risk premium that it believes the market would reasonably apply on a long term investment basis to each investment's projected cash flows taking, inter alia, the following into account: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the performance of the underlying assets, taking into account the nature of the loan and its parameters, and including any actual or potential event in relation to each underlying asset that may be expected to have a material impact on the ability of the borrower to meet its obligations to its lenders, such as operating performance failures, or the credit impairment of the obligor; • general credit market activity and investor sentiment, which the Valuation Agent assesses by taking into account its knowledge of such markets gained from discussions with market participants and from publicly-available information on relevant transactions and publicly-traded securities; and • changes to the economic, legal, taxation or regulatory environment relevant to each asset. The Valuation Agent exercises its due judgement in assessing the likelihood of any interruptions to the debt payments due to the Company in light of the operational performance of each underlying asset. Calculation of NAV: The NAV (and NAV per Ordinary Share and NAV per C Share (until such time as any C Share in issue from time to time are converted into Ordinary Shares) is calculated quarterly by the Administrator following the Valuation Agent carrying out the fair market valuation of the Company's investments. Calculations are made in accordance with IFRS or as otherwise determined by the Board. Details of each quarterly valuation, and of any suspension in the making of such valuations, are announced by the Company through a regulatory information service and will be made available on the Company's website as soon as practicable after the end of the relevant quarter. The calculation of the NAV will only be suspended in circumstances where the underlying data necessary to value the investments of the Company cannot readily, or without undue expenditure, be obtained or in other circumstances (such as a system's failure of the Administrator) which prevents the Company from making such calculations. Details of any suspension in making such calculations will be announced through a regulatory information service as soon as practicable after any such suspension occurs.

In addition, the Manager, at its discretion, is entitled to an arrangement fee of up to one per cent. of the cost of each investment made by the Company. The Manager expects any such fee to be paid by the borrowers, and not the Company.
